

MEETING FACILITATION

Engage Alpine Link for powerful and engaging offsite meeting services that create productive results.

Alpine Link uses an approach that blends practical experience, contemporary behavioral science, thought leadership, and interactive learning.

We provide meeting planning and facilitation, soft-skill and leadership training, team building, and author roundtables.

Why Alpine Link?

- Reach the right balance between open-discussion and staying on topic
- Give structure to what could otherwise be random and unproductive
- Use an unbiased third-party who is candid and fair with everyone
- Professional facilitators help navigate participant biases, have methods to increase overall participation, and overcome other meeting dysfunctions
- Innovation depends on expert facilitation and “deferred judgment”
- Studies find that most innovative ideas come from outside the organization
- Participants appreciate having third parties on the agenda
- We make meeting hosts look good

Sample of what we do:

- Strategic Planning
- Adventure Learning
- Tactical Action Planning
